

THE COAST CENTENNIAL

July 24, 2010

I want to welcome each of you to this, our 100th Anniversary of The Oregon Coast. We are pleased to have you join us at Astoria Golf and Country Club for this great annual event. Over the years our level of competition has gotten better and this year's field brings together many family members, friends and competitors from around the country.

The Oregon Coast Committee and staff of Astoria Golf and Country Club are committed to making this our 100th Coast a truly memorable event.

Have a great time this week. Good luck, play well and above all HAVE FUN.

Kevin Hertig

The History of the Oregon Coast Invitational Tournament

The inaugural "Coast Tournament" was held at the Gearhart Golf Course in 1910 and was contested primarily by members of Portland area Country Clubs and mostly among members of the Waverley CC who had summer homes in Gearhart. As time went on contestants from other areas served to expand the field until the modern day tournament has grown to include players from all over the United States, not all of whom belong to Country Clubs. The initial tournament included a Women's Division and it is interesting to note that the first six years winner and runner-up all came from the Waverley Country Club. The reader can see that the contestants were listed as Mrs. followed by the name of the ladies husband. In the custom of those times it would appear that the Division in which women competed was the Ladies Division not the Women's Division.

The tournament was contested annually until 1926 with the exception of 1918 which was a year in which the United States was competing in a much larger arena, that of World War I. The record is not clear why the tournament was not contested from 1927 through 1930 but it was resumed in 1931 at Gearhart Golf Links until 1937 when it was moved to Astoria G&CC. Again the record is not clear why it was played there for four years before returning to Gearhart in 1941. During the World War II years of 1942 through 1945 the tournament was suspended before being resumed at Gearhart in 1946. By 1951 the tournament had become large enough to tax the staff at Gearhart and it was purchased by the Astoria G&CC (for the princely sum of $5.00) where it has remained since.

Although the finalists have come mostly from states west of the Rockies, contestants have come from throughout the United States and Canada. The tournament has grown from a relatively few players at the outset to the present format of 400 players in five divisions competing over eight days. In addition to the two divisions (men's and ladies) at its beginning, an over 32 division and later an over 40 division were established in the late 30s. These were replaced by a Seniors Division in 1952, a Junior Seniors Division in 1964 and a Super Seniors Division in 1990. All this happened as a result of the continuing demand for entry into the tournament on the one hand as well as a desire for players to compete with others nearer their own age and skill level.

Significant Competitors

During the long history of the Oregon Coast Invitational Tournament, some of the winners decided to pursue a career in professional golf while most were happy to continue as amateurs. Among those who did turn pro, two became winners on the PGA Tour, John Fought III who won twice and Jack Schlee, a Seaside boy, who won once. Bob Duden, whose career was as a Club Professional, became the premier performer among the professionals in the Northwest. Bruce Cudd, Mitch Mooney, another Seaside Boy, George Mack Junior and Mike Swingle also had a brief career in the professional ranks.

Two of our contestants, one in the Women's Division and one in the Men's, stand out among all those who played golf in the Northwest. Ralph Dichter, who gained the nickname "The King of the Coast", won the grand Championship 10 times, was runner-up 8 times, won Junior Seniors 3 times and Super Seniors once. Interestingly enough, in his 18 trips to the Grand Championship finals, he never played the same man in the final match. Joan Edwards Powell was equally impressive, winning the Women's Division 11 times and finishing runner-up 7 times. Although she was not called "The Queen of the Coast" her play certainly entitled her to such a nickname. She won first as Joan Berkis, later as Joan Forrester and finally as Joan Edwards Powell. She competed very successfully in Amateur tournaments throughout the Northwest and beyond.

No family group ever approached that of George Mack and his brood. George himself won the Grand Championship Division 5 times was runner-up 3 times, won the Senior's Division 3 times and was runner-up once. His son, George Jr., won the Championship 3 times, daughter Lara won the Women's Championship 7 times and was runner-up 4 times, daughter Cappie won twice and was runner-up once and daughter Renee won once and was runner-up once. Winning a total of 21 Championships within the family is a most remarkable performance.

Another commendable performance is that of Molly Murphy Cronin who won first in 1957 and last of her 6 titles in 1984, an amazing 27 years apart. She was runner-up 8 times for a total of 14 trips to the Championship Match. In addition to that she was Women's medalist 6 times.

Member and Staff Contributions

Through the years those who contributed to the success of the tournament have been too numerous to be included in this document. In the early years, the organization and the actual conduct of the tournament was handled largely by the members. This is not to say that the Superintendents, the Golf Professionals, the Club Managers and their staffs were not a significant part of the Tournaments success. But as frequently is the case, they conducted their business behind the scenes, quietly and efficiently. The preparers of this book were not around to observe the details of their efforts until the post World War II period when the Tournament was moved to its present location at Astoria Golf and Country Club. Even then much of the time consuming work, the preparation of the competitors Packets, the selection of the prizes, the pairings of the players, the scoring, the starting, the marshalling, the decorating for the party nights was done by members and their wives. Much of it continues until the present time. All of those past and present contributions enabled the Tournament to grow to be what it is, an event of which we are all proud.

About 1980, the Office Staff became more involved, the pairings program that is presently in use was developed, the packets were made up in the office, the results of each days play and the next day's pairings were almost immediately available. Without this, it would have been next to impossible to grow to the 400 competitors and the eight days of competitive play that we now enjoy. Dan Sherman, Club Manager, assigned Melora Hitchman to be the full time assistant for the clerical functions of the Tournament and she took on the Administration necessary to make everything work. She learned the somewhat complex pairings program, established procedures for waiting lists, kept up to date all changes and insured that each days pairings were typed and delivered to the Pro Shop, Starters, Marshals, Scorers and whoever needed them. Along with her two able assistants, Barbara Knop and Dawn Ficken, a very complex operation was made to seem quite simple.

An effort to recognize all the Astoria staff members who were so instrumental in the growth of the Tournament will inevitably miss some of the deserving people. However, we will make that effort. The golf Professionals and their staffs are more visible than some and long time competitors may remember Marlow Quick, Bob Gasper and Jim Smith for their behind the scene work. When Mike Gove arrived he took more active control of the Tournament's conduct and relieved the members of some of their prior duties. John Kawasoe continued where Mike left off. With the arrival of Bill Winslow as Superintendent and then his successor, John Whisler, the golf course became continually better conditioned, the drainage was improved, the greens were faster and truer and the transition from a links style course with hard, dry fairways and slow greens was completed. While some will decry the loss of the old links style, they are far outnumbered by those who appreciate our move into the modern age of golf. John Whistler is almost invisible to contestants and gallery, since the "behind the scenes" work he and his crew do is accomplished when we are not around. However, the outstanding condition of the golf course is a testimony to his leadership.

With the move to our "new" Clubhouse before the 1971 Tournament, the Club Manager, the Chef and all the staff had a bigger role to play. Dan Sherman was critical in this regard and his successor, John Mattingly, continued his fine performance. Competitors will remember Gracie Salikie the charming hostess, who was a fixture during the Tournament. While few contestants who were not members were aware of Larry Barrows contributions, he was everywhere, setting up scoreboards, starters shacks, snack "tents" and PA systems as well as recruiting and organizing the parking staff and personally overseeing their activities.

How do we recognize all the members and their contributions? We don't. They were too many and their contributions too great to summarize here. Suffice it to say that the Tournament would not now exist without them. All the ladies on the scoreboard, in the starter shacks and the snack "tents" kept the play going seamlessly. The men on the Committees, the Marshals and the Tournament Chairmen were all part of the process. If we forgot someone, we apologize. It was a failure on our part, certainly not intentional.

THE OREGON COAST TOURNAMENT

The Oregon Coast Tournament is one of the oldest and most prestigious amateur golf tournaments held in the state. Originally a project of the Gearhart Golf Course, the tournament began in 1910 and was held annually at the Gearhart Public Course except during the war years of 1918, and 1942 through 1945. No tournaments were held between 1927 and 1930. In early July of 1952, just before the annual event was scheduled to open, the tournament was suddenly cancelled by the Gearhart Golf Course. Not wishing the tournament to lapse, an agreement was reached with the Gearhart ownership and Graham Barbey, then President of the Astoria Golf and Country Club and the Board of Directors of Astoria.

This agreement provided that Astoria Golf and Country Club would succeed to the ownership of the Oregon Coast Tournament and full sponsorship of the event was then assumed each year by the Astoria club. In order to protect the event, the name and ownership, papers have been filed in the public records of all counties on the Oregon Coast.

The tournament plays to a full field each year and a waiting list of those wishing to play is held in reserve. This year, 1988, 400 players will tee off during the week and there will be a waiting list to fill openings that may occur in advance of the tournament.

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	420
Men's Yards	412
Men's Handicap	7
Men's Par	4

Women's Yards	372
Women's Handicap	10
Women's Par	4

A level fairway the full distance. Trees all the way on left in double row except the last 100 yards. Trees begin on right about 100 yards out and continue in a double row the rest of the distance. Trees are also located all around right side and rear of the green. Two new traps, built in 1981, have been placed adjacent to the green at the foot of the cart path and below the clubhouse. Is a good finishing hole with a tricky putting surface.

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS 278
Men's Yards 273
Men's Handicap 13
Men's Par 4

Women's Yards 187
Women's Handicap 14
Women's Par 3

Even with a first time look most golfers will immediately recognize this as a unique golf hole. Men's tee is perched atop a dune adjacent to Sunset Beach Road and to the right of the fairway. Tee shot must carry brush on left and in front of fairway and extending about 90 yards out. Women's tee is on top of dune on right with clear approach to green. From below women's tee fairway is bottom of dune with steep slope on left and tilted upward slope on right. Green is at the narrow part of the dune with dune rising on both sides. Drop off behind green with trees and rough. Level putting surface with slight downhill to fairway.

Club selection is sometimes difficult here to adjust for changing wind conditions peculiar to the area. Fairway is downhill all the way. Trees on left the first 100 yards and some trees on left and right of green catch wayward shot hit in those directions. Green is trapped on right and deep trap is located to the rear of the green beside No 1 green. Putting surface rolling.

Considered by most golfers as one of the easiest pars on the course. Elevated tee is to right of fairway offering straight ahead shot down length of hole. Groups of small trees on right edge and double row of trees full length of hole on left. Trees also on right at top of dune from about 150 yards out. Green is trapped on right adjacent to putting surface and similar trap on left of green. A trap extends nearly full width at rear of green. Level putting surface.

This and the following hole (No. 14) are considered the toughest back to back par fours on the course. Follows a shallow and full distance. Trees on right to cart path crossing which is about 200 yards out. Fairly steep bank on left rising to the top of a dune which drops off to the 14th fairway and extending full length. Trees on left and rear of green and slope dropping off green to north. Putting surface a slight tilt to the south on fairway side.

Women's Handicap	6
Women's Par	5

Men's Handicap	8	Women's Par	5
Men's Par	5

First par 5 for men. Women's tee is adjacent to 8th green with straight on approach to fairway but Neacoxie Creek on left. Men's tee is nestled down on the edge of Neacoxie Creek and tee shot must clear the expanse of the creek for a playable lie. On this hole creek is played as a water hazard from men's tee only. From any other place creek, which runs the full length of the hole, is played as a lateral hazard. Fairway all the way to the green on right is the east side off a major dune. In addition to the creek bordering the hole on left, a row of closely planted spruce trees guard the edge of the fairway. Green is trapped on both right and left and tall spruce trees to the rear. Putting surface is level over entire area. Local legend has it that some long hitters have reached this green in two!

THE GOLF COURSE

Astoria Golf and Country Club dates from 1924. It bears the affectionate nickname of "The St. Andrews of the Pacific", due to its seaside layout similar to the famous St. Andrews in Scotland. Located about ten miles south of the mouth of the Columbia River, the course lies approximately midway between Astoria and Seaside, the two largest cities in Clatsop County. The golf course in recent years has been judged by a panel of regional experts as one of the five top golf courses in Oregon and so named in 'Golf Digest'. It is a private club with current membership in Proprietary, Non-Resident, Junior, Associate Women, and Social classes totaling approximately 996. The modern, functional clubhouse was dedicated in 1970 following a fire which destroyed the original facility. Below is shown an artists conception of the layout of the course.

THE OREGON COAST TOURNAMENT

The Oregon Coast Tournament is one of the oldest and most prestigious amateur golf tournaments held in the state. Originally a project of the Gearhart Golf Course the tournament began in 1910 and was held annually at that facility except the war years of 1918, and 1942-45. Also, no tournaments were held between 1927-30. In early July of 1952, just before the annual event was scheduled to open, the tournament was suddenly cancelled by the then ownership of the Gearhart Golf Course. Not wishing this popular event to lapse an agreement was reached with the Gearhart ownership and Graham Barber, then President of the Astoria Golf and Country Club and the Board of Directors of Astoria.

The agreement provided that Astoria Golf and Country Club would succeed to the name and all title and ownership of the name of Oregon Coast Tournament and full sponsorship of the event was been assumed each year since by the Astoria club. In order to fully protect the event the name and ownership papers have been duly filed in the public records of all counties on the Oregon Coast.

The tournament plays to a full field each year and a waiting list of those wishing to play is held in reserve. This year, 1982, a full field of 368 will tee off during the week and a waiting list of approximately 80 will be waiting in the wings for any dropouts in advance of the tournament.

Considered by most golfers as one of the easiest pars on the course. Elevated tee is to right of fairway offering straight ahead shot down length of hole. Groups of small trees on right edge and double row of trees full length of hole on left. Trees also on right at top of dune from about 150 yards out. Green is trapped on right adjacent to putting surface and similar trap on left of green. A trap extends nearly full width at rear of green. Level putting surface.

HOLE #13

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	424
Men's Yards	417	Women's Yards	417
Men's Handicap	1	Women's Handicap	8
Men's Par	4	Women's Par	5

This and the following hole (No. 14) are considered the toughest back to back par fours on the course. Follows a shallow and full distance. Trees on right to cart path crossing which is about 200 yards out. Fairly steep bank on left rising to the top of a dune which drops off to the 14th fairway and extending full length. Trees on left and rear of green and slope dropping off green to north. Putting surface a slight tilt to the south on fairway side.

HOLE #14

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	454
Men's Yards	444	Women's Yards	444
Men's Handicap	5	Women's Handicap	6
Men's Par	4	Women's Par	5

Elevated tee at top of hill on left looking down fairway. Fairway runs the length of bottom of the dune all the way. Few trees either side until area just in front of green on right which can cause trouble with shots straying in that direction. Traps on both left and right on facing edges of the green with steep, abrupt edges. Cart path runs around rear of hole with brush covered bank just beyond path. Putting surface is medium tricky with some deceptive surfaces.

HOLE #15

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	278
Men's Yards	273	Women's Yards	187
Men's Handicap	13	Women's Handicap	14
Men's Par	4	Women's Par	3

Even with a first time look most golfers will immediately recognize this as a unique golf hole. Men's tee is perched atop a dune adjacent to Sunset Beach Road and to the right of the fairway. Tee shot must carry brush on left and in front of fairway and extending about 90 yards out. Women's tee is on top of dune on right with clear approach to green. From below women's tee fairway is bottom of dune with steep slope on left and tilted upward slope on right. Green is at the narrow part of the dune with dune rising on both sides. Drop off behind green with trees and rough. Level putting surface with slight downhill to fairway.

HOLE #16

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	373
Men's Yards	357	Women's Yards	357
Men's Handicap	9	Women's Handicap	14
Men's Par	4	Women's Par	4

Elevated tee on top of dune and to left of fairway which lies at the bottom of the hill and runs between dunes all the way to the green. Steep dune in front of tee on left covered with trees and an abrupt bank falling off to fairway. No trees on rest of hole except on top of dune on right and rear of hole. Green is trapped on the right. Putting surface is level.

HOLE #17

CHAMPIONSHIP YARDS	191
Men's Yards	184	Women's Yards	184
Men's Handicap	15	Women's Handicap	16
Men's Par	3	Women's Par	3

Club selection is sometimes difficult here to adjust for changing wind conditions peculiar to the area. Fairway is downhill all the way. Trees on left the first 100 yards and some trees on left and right on green catch wayward shots hit in those directions. Green is trapped on right and deep trap is located to the rear of the green beside No. 1 green. Putting surface rolling.

HOLE #18

CHAMPIONSHIP YEARS	420
Men's Yards	412	Women's Yards	372
Men's Handicap	7	Women's Handicap	10
Men's Par	4	Women's Par	4

A level fairway the full distance. Trees all the way on left in double row except the last 100 yards. Trees begin on the right about 100 yards out and continue in a double row the rest of the distance. Trees are also located all around right side and rear of the green. Two new traps, built in 1981, have been placed adjacent to the green and at the foot of the cart path and below the clubhouse. Is a good finishing hole with a tricky putting surface.

TO: Jim Clune, 1981 Chairman, Oregon Coast Invitational

FROM: Stan Church, Publicity Chairman

Herewith I transmit a report on publicity activities during the recent tournament and some suggestions incorporated therein for the guidance of those who might have the job in the future.

PRESS BOOK: I call it this for want of a better name. Preparation of this material was begun about three weeks in advance of the tournament. A copy of the fact sheet is enclosed herewith. It will be noted it contains a history of the tournament, lists the past winners; has a hole by hole description of the course, a short history, pictures the layout, and other pertinent data. A copy of this material was placed in a manila folder, labeled as per the folder here, and taken to all representatives of the media when I made my first call on each person. This seemed to be enthusiastically received and it appears that all will retain it in their files. Object of this was to have something in hand on calling on these people and to aid us in selling the prestige of the tournament and its newsworthiness. It is suggested that this same material be used each year with an updating to include new and interesting material which arises in future years. With this material in hand all newspapers and radio stations in Clatsop County were visited to learn what help they needed in covering the tournament and how we could be of assistance. An entire day was spent in Portland covering the principal newspapers, radio and TV stations. That all of these contacts paid off will be apparent in report to follow.

NEWSPAPER: Best coverage came from the Daily Astorian and the Oregon Journal. Bill Mulflur, Executive Sports Editor of the Oregon Journal, was again a player in the tournament and filed a daily story with a Warrenton dateline. Bill knows golf and golfers and his coverage was outstanding.

Grady Pannell of the Daily Astoria was most cooperative. We should recognize that Grady is not a golfer. So it is important to "feed" him certain odds and ends other than daily scores to make his stories more interesting. The Astorian also sent our Photographer Bill Wagner on two or three occasions and he produced some dramatic shots of some of the tournament play.

Bonnie Henderson handles sports for the Seaside Signal. Recognize that this is a weekly paper publishing on Thursday. So about all we could get here was some advance stories involving local people and a recap of the winners after the tournament was ended. Again, recognize she does not play golf and must be helped in interpreting golf terms and scores and "fed" local names and incidents of interest to the Seaside community.

Bob Robinson, golf editor of The Oregonian does not cover the Oregon Coast personally. However, we contacted him in Portland and he asked that we call in on their watts line each day with scores in the championship flights. We made such a call each day during the tournament and there was a resulting story the next morning each day in The Oregonian. Some people seem to think The Oregonian does not give us enough coverage but with the price of newsprint, narrower margins and tighter columns, I felt we were very fairly treated. Very few other tournaments in Oregon receive as much coverage as we enjoyed.

Material in the Press Book was left with Sports People Northwest. This is a new bi-monthly sports paper published by the Daily Journal of Commerce, Portland. Larry Smith, one of our non-resident members, is general manager of the DJ of C and gave us all sorts of cooperation with introductions to his staff. But we came in with just the wrong dates for their publication date and they were unable, due to this factor, to be of much help. But it would appear from our conversations that some favorable mention of the tournament will be made in the future issues and perhaps final scores will be published.

We have no way of knowing what additional newspaper coverage we had from Associated Press and United Press International. They pick up their stories from The Oregonian and Journal and send them out to client papers all over the Northwest.

NOTE: Stories in the Oregonian over the week of the tournament totalled twenty-four inches.

RADIO: We were called each afternoon by Darrell Aune, Sports Editor of KEX in Portland for scores and other items of interest. KEX transmits with 50,000 watts and covers a vast area of Oregon and S.W. Washington. The station is heavy on sports and we were included in a daily sports broadcast around five P.M. each afternoon and perhaps later in the evening.

We had two reports each day on KAST, Astoria. These were aired at 9:30 A.M. and the second at 5:30 P.M. These were approximately five minutes in length and started on Sunday qualifying and went on thru the week. KAST also provided a "first" for the tournament in that the afternoon finals of the Grand Championship were carried "live" by short wave radio. Frankly, we had to experiment with this type of broadcast and we learned some valuable lessons for the future. Our main problem was keeping a line of sight shot at the transmitter, which meant we had a tendency to fade out if we went below the ridges. All in all, KAST gave us superb cooperation and probably contributed well over three hours of time to the tournament during the week.

KSWB, Seaside also had two five minute reports phoned in each day at 12:00 noon and 4:15 P.M. We also had a tape recorder belonging to the station and contributed interviews with Ed Palmrose and Bill Mulflur which were later broadcast as features of KSWB. This station probably contributed at least two hours of time during the week to the Oregon Coast. The management was most cooperative and we had only to ask if we wanted any special favors.

KVAS, Astoria wanted short reports of tournament play. Anytime we had tournament results of a special feature we had only to call them. The report would either be taped or, as in certain occasions, they cut us in "live" during their newscasts.

TV: For the first time in history the Oregon Coast rated television coverage from the Portland stations. We had made contact with all but KPTV while in Portland and were assured there was some interest but we had no promises of action. KOIN-TV asked us to call on Wednesday, and at that time we were informed that a cameraman and commentator would be down on Friday morning. They were taken over the course to follow both men's and women's play. The results of their activities appeared on the news broadcast at 5:30 P.M. on Friday. They also asked for scores in the finals on Saturday, which were phoned to them, and it would appear the score was given by voice on Saturday evening on KOIN-TV.

We had made contact with KGW-TV and were to call them on Thursday. At that time we were informed they could not send a crew down but we were asked to have Art Chan take 100 feet of film, equally divided between men and women's play. This film was rushed to Portland that afternoon but did not appear on the 11:00 news. However, they did give a voice report and the Grand Championship results at that time. The photo coverage of the tournament came on Sunday afternoon between five thirty and six P.M. when coverage of the Oregon Coast followed shots of the Women's Open which had been played that afternoon. Shown were our finalists walking and shooting. We perhaps had from forty five seconds to a minute and a half.

KATU-TV showed no interest in photo coverage of the tournament but did ask that they be furnished with results on Saturday. These were phoned to them in late afternoon and no doubt were included by voice on newcasts that night.

We we might say that we scored 100% on Portland television.

POST TOURNAMENT: Stories have been prepared and sent to the club publications of each private club represented in the tournament. These stories list the winners and runner ups in all divisions who might come from that club. Our thought here is that these names, below the championship bracket, would not be of sufficient interest to the newspapers, but the names are important Oregon Coast Tournament and Astoria Golf and Country Club.

A summary of the winners of all flights in the finals and runnerups has been prepared and will be sent to all golf publications and the major golf magazines such as GOLF and Golf Digest, etc. Also to The Middle Tee and other Northwest publications.

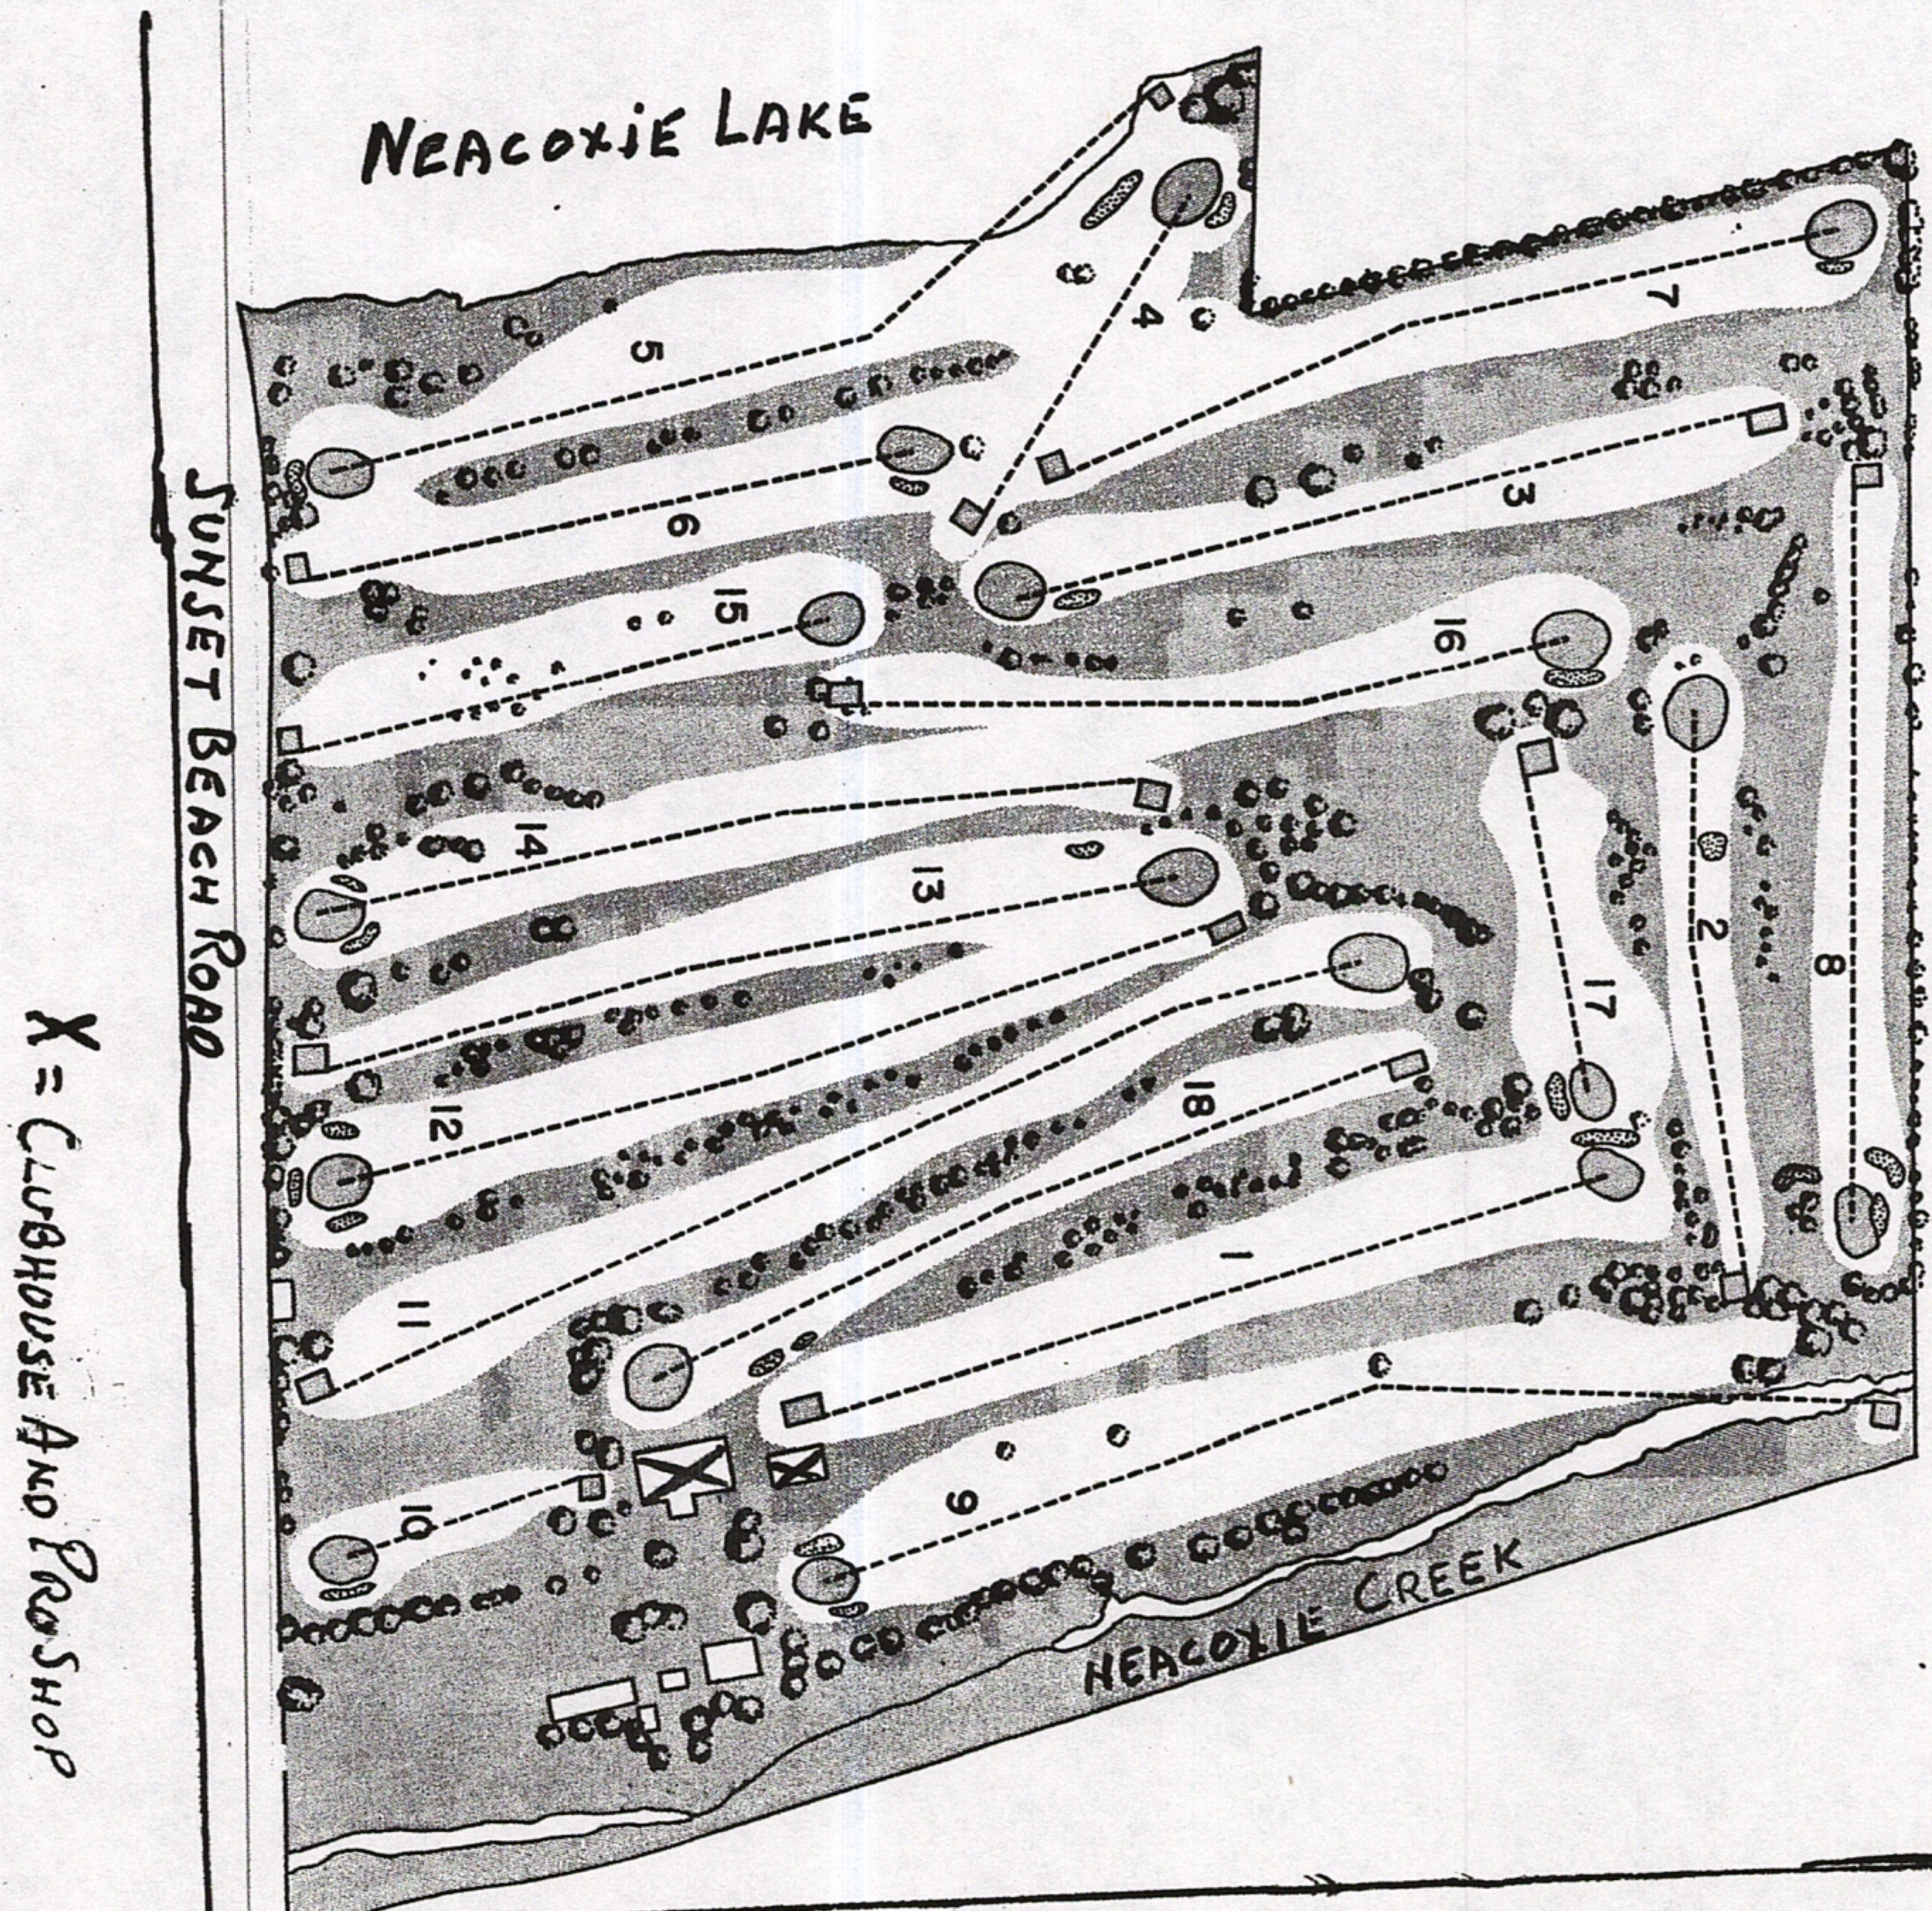

Copies of various stories mentioned above are included. Also news stories from vaious sourse published during the week.

Respectfully submitted,

Stan Church

THE GOLF COURSE

Astoria Golf and Country Club dates from 1924. It bears the affectionate nickname of "The St. Andrews of the Pacific", due to its seaside layout similar to the famous St. Andrews in Scotland. Located about ten miles south of the mouth of the Columbia River, the course lies approximately midway between Astoria and Seaside, the two largest cities in Clatsop County. The golf course in recent years has been judged by a panel of regional experts as one of the five top golf courses in Oregon and so named in 'Golf Digest'. It is a private club with current membership in Proprietary, Non-Resident, Junior, Associate Women, and Social classes totalling approximately 762. The modern, functional clubhouse was dedicated in 1970 following a fire which destroyed the original facility. Below is shown an artist's conception of the layout of the golf course.

Picture quote. "COMRADERE"

Ray beat me that year. I've been fortunate enough to win my flight in 2007 and 2009. We had cousins, the Isenhours and the Utterstroms stay with us this year at our home across from the golf course. The men enjoyed the tournament as contestants and are eagerly looking forward to the 100th. PS: So is Karen Isenhour.

In the short time I've been in this tournament, it is probably the best run and most fair event in which I've been involved. The staff exceeds our expectations. To top that off, we all are able to meet new people and develop relationships over the years even if it only for his event. Don't stop what you're doing.

A special note for Fred Bowen. He is a long time associate and friend of Tom Utterstrom. They both were employed (Tom still is) at Boeing in the Human Resources Dept. At, I believe, age 78, he stands as a man among men with no axe to grind and a true gentleman. He became ill during my contest with him in the 2009 event and had to be taken to the hospital for diagnosis and observation. We were concerned about his heart. However, when Tom Isenhour and I visited him later that day, I was encouraged as to his recovery when he told me "I was looking forward to kicking you're a__!!!" I was fortunate enough to beat him in 2007 and he remembered. He golfs way too much. He'll be in Palm Desert this winter honing his game for next year. I'm looking forward to his return for the 100th anniversary Invitational.

If anything else, please let me know.

Thanks, Roger

Thanks for your comments. I must have been in such a hurry to show you what an eager beaver I was that I didn't finish the history. On the one that got dumped on me I had all about the 1937 -1940 period when the Tournament was at Astoria then back to Gearhart for 1941 and 1946-1950 before finally moving to Astoria.

Also among significant competitors because of the unusual combination were the Swingles, Rob won the GC once, Mary the Womens 3 times and son Mike won GC once and was runner-up once. Not quite equal to the Macks but it was both parents plus son. You mentioned Sybil who only won once, but was runner-up 5 times and medalist 5 times. That is a significant achievement. I'll put that in the next draft. You corrected Waverly to Waverley but the records list it as Waverly. I checked an old Oregon Seniors Assn. directory which had it mostly as ley, but in at least one place as ly. I'm sure you are right though, so I'll change it to ley.

I'll revise the history and significant competitors when the smoke clears around here and get it back to you via e-mail. I'd rather have too much stuff in and we can edit out what seems like we don't need.

The reason for the reference to Womens Division is that I used to get lots of complaints because we didn't have a SR Womens Division and I would explain why which was generally accepted rationally but not emotionally. Might better be left out. We can deal with that in the final editing.

If I don't see you, enjoy your Christmas in Oregon.

Jim

Jim:

Nice job. I have highlighted a few areas that I thought needed some punctuation, although I am not sure I am right, either. I am going to drop off the changes to you sometime today.

I made one suggestion in the History section and will appreciate your thoughts. Also, I am wondering if we are opening up a very sore wound by commenting on the women having only the one Division.

I am going over to L.A. Sunday and will be back Monday evening. I'll call you Tuesday P.M. to see what you think. Thanks for all the hard work you are doing.
